70196 SAN MARCO MIRROR

Expertly cut, deeply etched and multi-layered. These are just a few of the special qualities of Venetian glass mirrors made in the time-honored tradition. But there's so much more: one look and you fall in love with the way they are ornate and elaborate, but also clean and classic. This gorgeous example, the San Marco Mirror, is an uncommon jewel with delicate beading, scrolled flourishes and openwork to let the color or pattern of the wall shine through. The central mirror is beveled and the brilliance of the surrounding mirrored pieces act as its frame. It is no wonder Venetian mirrors were originally used for illumination in the early 16th century. Give it a place of prominence above a dresser, sink or sideboard. Or let it be the focal point in your foyer to greet your holiday guests.
